Our Brand Story

Alex grew up in the countryside, in the wilds of Suffolk in an old house surrounded by nature. He lived a life of adventure in rivers and forests, roaming freely in nature's playground. After training at the Sir John Cass School of Art in London, Alex created his first collection in 1987 to critical acclaim. His intention was to produce excellent quality jewellery, which was originally designed, handmade and well priced.

This was jewellery made to be worn and made to be loved and these values remain unchanged to this day.

Alex Monroe jewellery is now synonymous with a very British sense of style. It is feminine, delicate and quirky, but above all consistently wearable. Now a much loved brand world-wide, each and every piece is individually designed and handmade in England by Alex and his team of expert jewellers. Inspired by nature and nostalgia, with every piece having a story to tell.

As a brand inspired by nature we are committed to making sure our work has little impact on the environment and it's people. We use recycled materials as much as possible, from the precious metals in our jewellery to our packaging.

Our main collections are entirely handcrafted from sterling silver, with all our precious stones being sourced from ethical & sustainable suppliers.

Our Ethos

Alex began making jewellery in 1986 and has always been committed to working ethically and responsibly, with as little impact on the environment as possible. We have been proudly hand making jewellery using a mix of traditional and specifically developed techniques for over 30 years. From the design process to finishing touches, all of our jewellery is handcrafted in England by our team of expert jewellers.

Alex Monroe jewellery has always been designed and made to be worn, loved and treasured. Every piece tells a story - from the hypnotic dragonflies flitting around the Suffolk countryside of Alex's childhood to a quirky shrimp, inspired by early memories of an unconventional but delicious afternoon tea. Alex's intuitive and personal approach to jewellery design and the emotional connection it inspires means so many of our customers treasure their Alex Monroe jewellery for a lifetime - challenging the often throwaway nature of modern life.

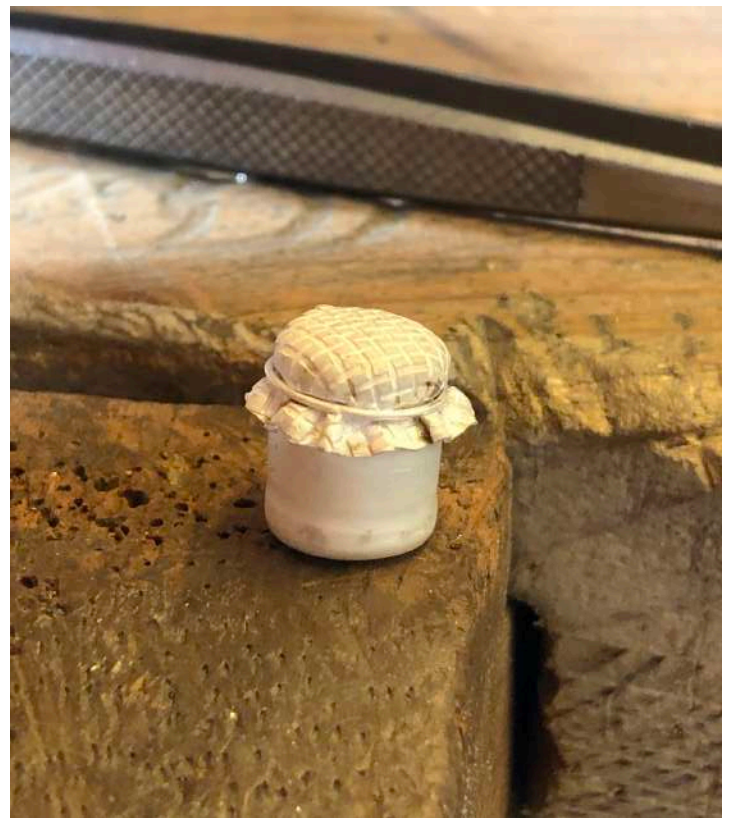

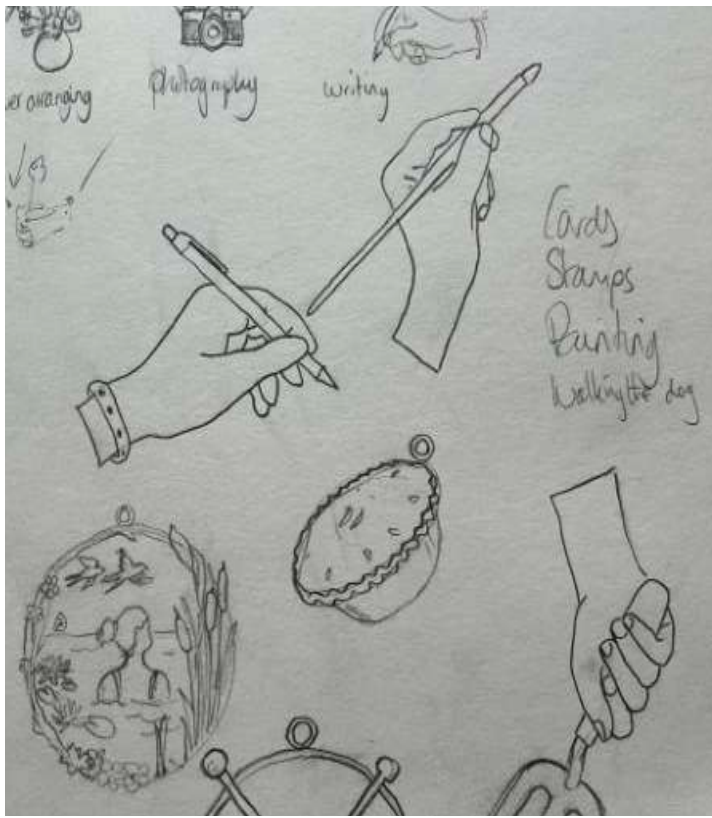

Taking a proactive approach to sustainability and responsible business practices is integral to the creation of our jewellery. We work closely with our suppliers to ensure that we are keeping any environmental impact to a minimum, whilst positively contributing to communities. Alongside this, we encourage them to follow suit, establishing long term change!

Every piece of Gold-plated Alex Monroe jewellery made, is done so with licensed Fairmined Gold. Created by the Alliance for Responsible Mining, Fairmined is a global, accredited standard that certifies Gold from responsibly managed artisanal and small-scale community mines - and can be traced accordingly. Using Fairmined is a proactive way for us to both empower social development and support better environmental practices.

Our collections feature a beautiful array of gemstones to enhance our designs with sparkle or colour. Whilst we make a conscious effort to ensure that the gemstones we purchase are responsibly sourced with a certified or transparent supply chain, sadly, it may not always be possible to guarantee this. We remain committed to pursuing responsible sourcing into the future, but please let us know if you have any specific questions or concerns about the piece you are purchasing.

Alongside making jewellery, we have taken ownership of our carbon footprint and are on a mission to reduce our emissions year on year! The term 'Carbon Neutral' often means that any CO2 released into the atmosphere from a company's activities is balanced by an equivalent amount being 'removed' or off-set. We would rather focus on lowering the emissions we make in the first place, than paying for them to be balanced out elsewhere.

Pastimes Inspiration

New for AW/24, Pastimes is a gently nostalgic celebration of the things we enjoy in life, our hobbies, favourites, interests and passions.

For perhaps the first time ever, the starting point for this collection were ideas suggested by customers, so Alex and our Design team couldn't wait to get started in the workshop! The key for creating this collection was always going to be enhancing what could be quite everyday objects, with precise detail and a touch of humour. Each piece has an instantly recognisable shape, but it is the tiny elements and carefully considered textures that really make them magical. This is always achieved by hand, through silversmithing techniques such as carving, chasing, milling, granulation, engraving, and soldering.

Whatever your personal interests may be, we hope that the finished collection will offer endless moments of delight and discovery, and little glimmers of enjoyment to carry with you throughout the day, as a wonderful reminder of time well spent.

Into The Woods

Into The Woods

Every autumn we love venturing into the woodland and forests of the UK, to observe the changing seasons and appreciate the rich colours and textures.

And it seems this time of year is special to many people, as our woodland themed pieces are always so well-loved! In celebration of this, the design focus for Alex and our team was to further explore imagined stories, using their collective skills on the workbench to create an intricately detailed capsule collection.

From acorns to mushrooms, this collection unites favourite motifs from our design archive, alongside signature details such as heavily textured bark, delicate fungus and teeny conkers and introduces new friends in the form of an elegant Doe and a foraging Badger, both brimming with character.

Just My Type

“Just my Type” is a love letter to typography, and the skill and craftsmanship found in the colourful hand-painted signs of yesteryear. Details and flourishes are captured in a nostalgic graphic style, rooted in history.

Beyond the alphabet, playful punctuation is perfect for posing questions, joining in unity or making a point! So whether you opt for your own initial, that of a loved one, or maybe choose to pop a question - “Just my Type” is both a cheeky reference to personal preferences and nod to typography.

The Potager

The Potager

When he's not at his workbench, Alex will usually be found gardening, and 'The Potager' is a love letter to kitchen garden - growing your own perfectly-imperfect vegetables, and pausing to appreciate beauty in the everyday. This collection celebrates simplicity and honours the humble - finding unexpected elegance in onions, and gorgeous glamour in leafy greens - all with a trademark touch of humour, and perhaps a cute visitor or two along the way.

Raven

Raven

In a curious new collaboration, Alex Monroe fuses 30 years of jewellery design & craftsmanship with the wit and style of writer and cultural observer Raven Smith. The result is a fresh, clean and somewhat sensory collection, where a surface simplicity playfully comes undone to reveal layers of hidden elaboration and unexpected detail. Gemstones studded within the bands of rings remain secret only to the wearer, and afterwards leave behind a tell-tale shadow on the finger. Smooth cannonball orbs can be worn closed or hinged open to reveal a juicy green tourmaline glowing from within, while a clean chain necklace is punctuated with a single freshwater pearl.

Humble Beginnings

Humble Beginnings

In Humble Beginnings, Alex and our design team celebrate the resilience and magic of nature found in stark urban spaces. Striking sprouts of wild greenery determined to flourish wherever they can seed and take root - from cracks in concrete pavements, to fractures in the crumbling mortar of brick walls.

Handmade in polished sterling silver with the option of a Fairmined gold plate finish, leafy shapes repeat to form trailing silhouettes, accented in part with fresh white diamonds and vibrant green peridots.

Fables

Fables

Passed down over centuries of storytelling, Fables sees Alex and our design team craft a world of folklore and morality inspired by the age-old wisdom of Aesop.

As vine leaves twist around Grecian columns, we discover an elaborately horned Goat, who is wise to the tricks of a cunning Wolf. An over-confident Hare engages in a race with a patient, determined Tortoise, whilst a noble Rooster strides on proudly, valuing his search for food above glittering jewels. In Fables, every treasure has a tale to tell and a lesson to be learnt.

Natural History

Natural History

Our Natural History collection captures the breath-taking wonder of a first visit to a grand Museum. Exploring these majestic buildings, we come across gently unearthed fossils, gaze at worlds preserved in diorama, and tiptoe past commanding dinosaur guardians.

Through 'Natural History' Alex and the design team take a journey of discovery into a bygone world, with a present reminder of the vulnerability of life on earth. Every treasure is imbued with a sense of history and curiosity, offering both playful and sophisticated silhouettes.

Oceans and Nautical

Oceans and Nautical

Born from increasing environmental concerns, 'Oceans' sees Alex and our design team celebrate the beauty and majesty that dwells within our planet's seas. As a pod of big and baby blue whales swirl beneath the surface, a baby turtle takes his first steps towards the surf! This collection was imagined and created in support of global environmental charity, Friends of the Earth, and raised over £8000 in support of their Drastic on Plastic water pollution campaign! Inspired by a Victorian nostalgia of seaside and sailors, our Nautical collection is awash with antique sailing boats, romantic signet rings and a shining spiral shell, whimsically engraved with a line from Alex's favourite poem!

Natural Life

Natural Life

Natural Life takes a look at the art of collecting, nest making and the beauty of seasonal changes in nature. The intricate, elaborate nests of the Bowerbird formed a key inspiration for Alex when creating this collection. An influence brought to life through our bold, Nest Structure Ring & Statement Drop Earrings.

Taking from his personal 'nest' of collected leaves, seeds and twigs, Alex and his team have created pieces that range from the subtle to the bold. Rich in texture, incredibly tactile and imbued with Alex's ornate, signature style.

General Care Guide

- Beauty products can react with jewellery causing it to tarnish, discolour and possibly corrode. We always advise applying any cosmetics and scents before putting on jewellery.
- Remove jewellery before engaging in any form of physical exercise. Perspiration can also contribute to tarnishing.
- Chemicals, moisture, and hot conditions can cause extreme tarnishing. Water will also contribute to gradual tarnishing, therefore jewellery must be removed before entering a pool, shower, hot spring or the sea.
- We recommend storing our jewellery in a sealable bag, as exposure to the air and environment can cause jewellery to dull and eventually tarnish.
- Multiple pieces should be stored separately, so that they don't tangle or rub and scratch against each other. And as much as someone may love their pieces we do not recommend sleeping in our jewellery!

Our Alex Monroe Polishing Cloths have been made especially for us in the UK, to keep your jewellery looking bright and help prevent tarnishing. You will receive a complimentary cloth in your opening order or they are available to purchase, please ask for pricing information from your sales agent.
