

Tamarah Moutotekema Boussamba – Biography

Tamarah Moutotekema Boussamba is an Economist and Entrepreneur, Founder & CEO of AGRIDIS, an agribusiness which produces and sells cassava in Sub-Saharan Africa.

Moreover, she is the Co-founder of Wagui, an app which gives advice and connects farmers to buyers. Throughout her professional career she has received numerous national and international recognitions, such as the Tony Elumelu Foundation Entrepreneur Prize, the 2017 Milead Fellow "Most Outstanding Woman Under 25" Award by the Moremi Initiative, Obama Leader Africa and Mandela Washington Fellowship.

Tamarah is driven by her dedication and commitment towards achieving economic empowerment through entrepreneurship.