

Stacey Perez,
Special Agent
Internal Revenue Service
Criminal Investigation (IRS-CI)

Stacey Perez was the Cyber Attaché for International Operations in South America and Caribbean, with the Internal Revenue Service-Criminal Investigation (IRS-CI). Stacey began her career as a special agent in 2011, primarily investigating Title 26 and Title 18 investigations in the Miami Field Office. Stacey is specially trained in IRS-CI programs responsible for investigating criminal violations of the Internal Revenue Code and related financial crimes involving tax, money laundering, cyber-crimes, identity theft, and narcotics. Stacey has trained in multiple cyber tools and holds active licenses, including Chainalysis Reactor, Elliptic, TRM Labs, 5150 and holds a bachelor's degree in Accounting from Florida International University. Stacey has led IRS-CI led Cyber OCDETF investigations and has developed working relationships with analysts from Blocktrace, Chainalysis, and Penn State in support of cyber investigations.