

PARTNERSHIP OFFER

Become a partner of the Soil Carbon in the Ecological Transition International symposium 2024!

IFPEN & INRAE are offering partner companies and foundations the opportunity to be visible to researchers in soil science.

Become a sponsor of this international symposium and lend your support to the researchers addressing topics related to soil carbon. Your sponsorship will aid in addressing the significant challenges posed by climate mitigation and food sovereignty.

Topics will include the quantification of organic carbon and the characterisation of soil organic matter; biodiversity in the stabilisation of soil organic matter; microbiological, geochemical and matter transfer interactions.

Three levels of partnership are proposed:
