WE LIVE WINE

In autumn 2018, we moved our winery to the highest point in Gols. Here we carry out all wine-related activities, such as processing our harvest, fermenting the grapes, and maturing the wine in stainless steel tanks or oak barrels. Our tastings and events also take place here and offer an incomparable view over our vineyards right down to Lake Neusiedl.

WE CONNECT

the traditional knowledge of decades with the latest findings of modern viniculture. This method has resulted in excellent vines for years. Our vineyards are on around 36 hectares of the unique wine-growing region of Lake Neusiedl, including the legendary Salzberg, Altenberg, and Gabarinza vineyards. The soil gives the potential - we do the essential and attentive care.

This care results in fresh, fruity white wines, firm, dense red wines, and sweet wines rich in extracts.

Hochreith

Hochreith is located between Ungerberg and Altenberg. The inner part faces southeast, while the outer part faces southwest. It lies on the municipal boundary of Gols and is a good vineyard for wines with fruitiness and finesse. Zweigelt, St. Laurent, Pinot Noir, Chardonnay, Pinot Blanc, and Welschriesling are the main varieties from this slightly hilly site.

Altenberg

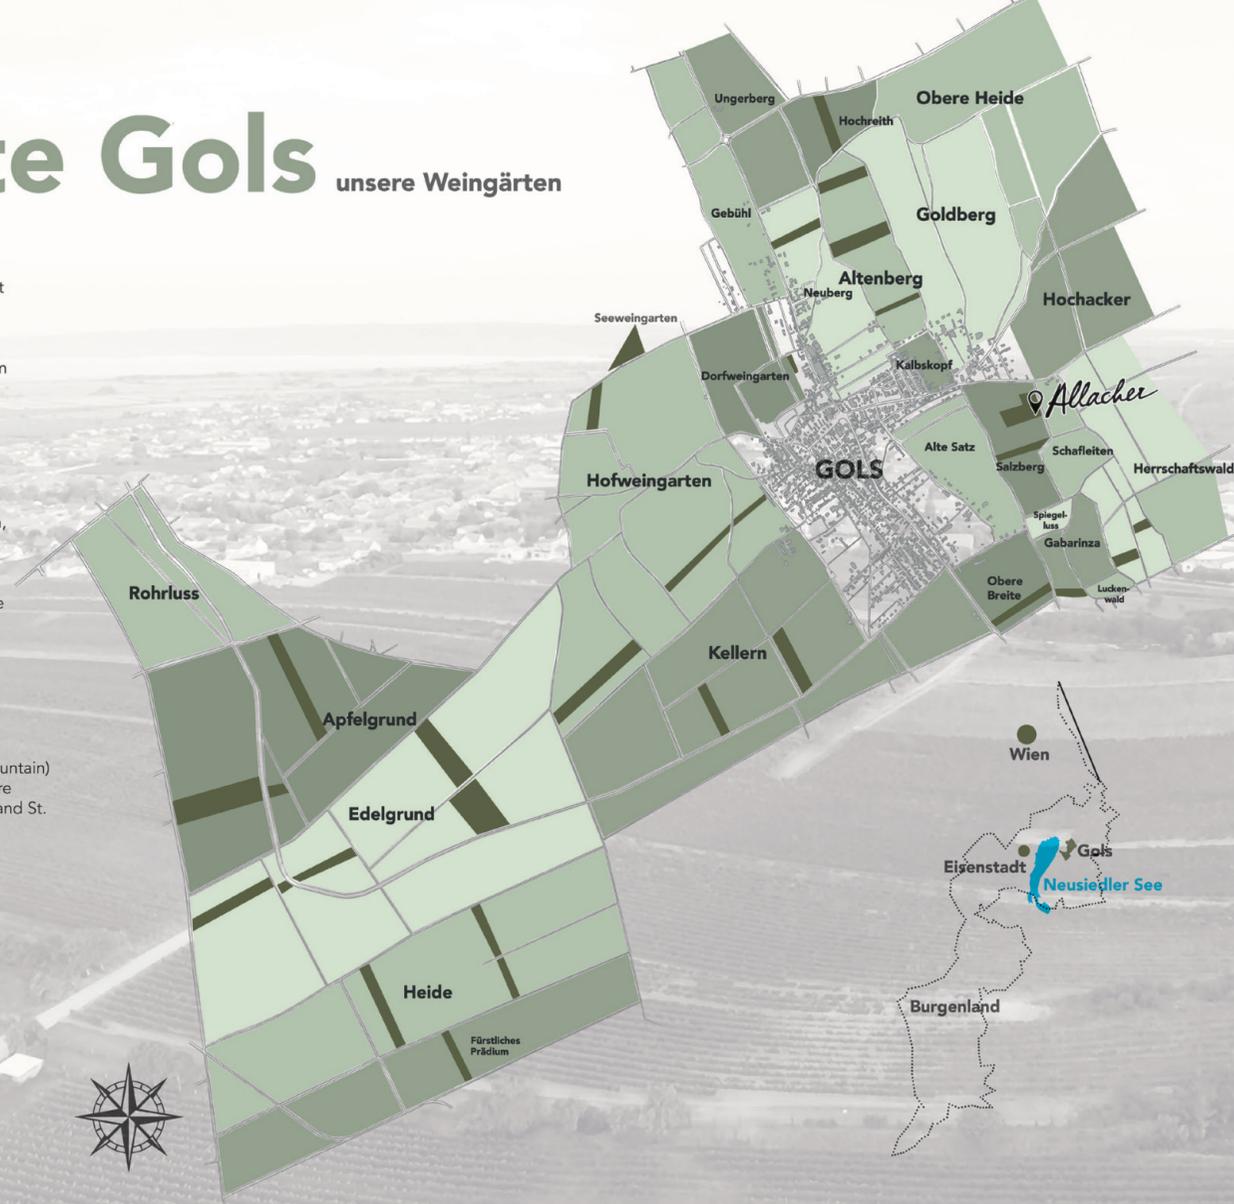

Altenberg is a hillside on the southwest edge of the Parndorfer Platte. Translated from German into English, "Altenberg" means old mountain, which implies the area carries a long past of viticulture. The benefits of this area were recognized long time ago. The Riede Altenberg covers the largest area of the slopes in Gols (approx. 52 ha) and has always been one of the best. Due to the incline of the tilt with intensive sunshine, wines with strength and elegance emerge from this vineyard. The main varieties are Zweigelt, Blaufränkisch, St. Laurent, Merlot, Chardonnay, and Pinot Blanc.

Neuberg

Gentle hills determine the appearance of the Riede Neuberg (New Mountain) (approx. 14 ha). The grapes from these vineyards produce wines that are melting and charming. Pinot Blanc, Neuburger, Chardonnay, Zweigelt and St. Laurent are particularly suitable for this location.

Apfelgrund

Apfelgrund (Apple Ground) is located near Lake Neusiedl. The grapes are strongly influenced by the micro-climate of Lake Neusiedl and thereby reach the highest maturity.

Gabarinda

Gabarinda is one of two southwest slopes rising to the Parndorfer Platte. Due to the strong inclination and the optimal orientation, the location receives optimal sunlight. As a result, the vines produce a higher level of photosynthesis, and the soil heats up more. Wines from this vineyard are characterized by opulence and depth. Here you will primarily find the varieties Zweigelt, Blaufränkisch, and Merlot.

Salzberg

Salzberg (Salty Mountain) is a southwest slope on the edge of the Parndorfer Platte. It refers to vineyards that lie on "salty" ground, which means valuable and good soil. The Salzberg is one of the best vineyards in Gols (approx. 32 ha). With its long, steep slope, it promotes ripeness and enables the production of high-grade grape material. This vineyard produces firm, full-bodied Wines with intense fruit aromas. The main varieties are Zweigelt, Blaufränkisch, and Merlot.

Kellern, Edelgrund, Heide, Fürstliches Prädium, Hofweingärten

(Cellars, Edelgrund, Heide, Fürstliches Prädium, Hofvineyards) These vineyards are part of the large estate Heideboden. Here one often finds humic sandy soil partly with lime. Mainly, Heideboden produces fruity red wines and white wines with medium tannins.
