

Wien Bloym

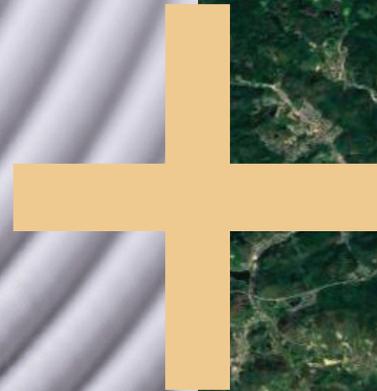

Sheyn for ViennaBusiness

Sheyn.

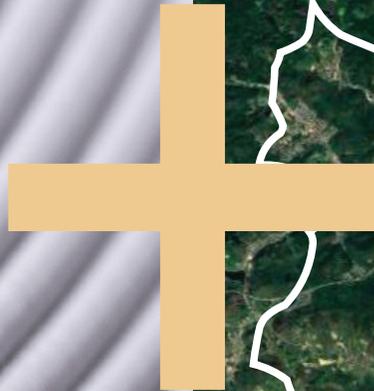

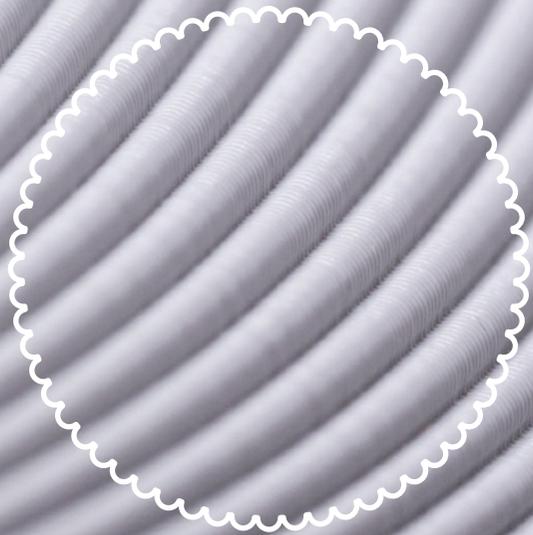

We wanted to design a vase that tells a story — not just a form, but an origin. A piece that merges our signature 3D printed textures with the city that shaped us. A vase that gradually unfolds — like a flower in bloom — until it reaches a silhouette drawn by Vienna itself.

Wien Bloym. Born from Vienna. Bloomed by design.

Vienna is not just where we live — it's the city that shaped us. The Wien Bloym vase is a topographical bloom, rooted in the streets we walk, the history we carry, and the inspiration we continue to draw from.

This vase isn't only decorative — it's biographical. A vase for flowers, yes. But also for identity, for memory, for Vienna.

STUCCO WHITE

Referencing the soft, matte texture of façades in Viennese buildings

SECESSION GOLD

Echoing the shimmering dome of the Secession Building

PAVILION GREEN

A tribute to the architectural pavilions of Karlsplatz

PATINA BRONZE

For the natural weathering seen on many Jugendstil surfaces

Homeware, 3D printed.

Sheyn Homeware is designed and individually 3D printed in our studio in Vienna. Each surprisingly light and sturdy shape is constructed from thousands of tiny patterns that provide structural integrity and touchable texture. With 100% PLA, material made from corn, every piece is sustainable, renewable and recyclable.

-  Clean with a wet cloth or under running water, not in the dishwasher.
-  The colour might fade over time if the object is kept exposed to direct sunlight.
-  The object itself is not watertight. Use the included glass container, if applicable.

Wien Bloym. Born of Vienna. Bloomed by design.

Vienna is not just where we live – it's the city that shaped us. The Wien Bloym vase is a topographical bloom born from the outline of the city boundaries, and produced in Vienna. Rooted in the streets we walk, the history we carry, and the inspiration from which we draw. This vase isn't just decorative – it's biographical. A vase for flowers, yes. But also for identity, for memory, for Vienna: a vibrant place, a fertile ground, where ideas take root and businesses like ours can bloom and flourish.

Wien Bloym is a cooperation between Sheyn and ViennaBusiness, initiated by Vienna Business Agency.

Sheyn.

Sheyn is a Vienna-based design studio, founded in 2016 by Nicolas Gold and Markus Schaffer.

The studio utilizes the tools and thinking of architecture to create fully digital designs for that place on your desk, the shelf in your hallway, the corner of your coffee table and everywhere else in your life that could be a bit more Sheyn. Each piece is created using state-of-the-art modeling and fabrication techniques.

The word Sheyn, itself, means beautiful in Yiddish. It was created through cultural exchange and a longing for beauty – like all of our products.
