

Which coat does your dog need?

To make it easier to find the perfect Dog Coat, matching both your dog's shape and its needs, our coats are conveniently grouped into three families - based on fit. If one coat from a family fits your dog, the others will too. Our FIR technology works together with design and functional materials for the best possible performance.

* Several of our dog coats come in two models: High Set Tail or Low Set Tail to accommodate dogs with different body types. The high set tail models have adjustable back length, while the low set tail models have a wrap-around opening at the back that allows freedom of movement for the tail.

BAV

BAV is a coat for all kinds of dogs. Close-fitting but with an accommodating design, it allows for a variety of body types as well as for freedom of movement.
