Traditional Static Discounting vs. Dynamic Supplier Finance

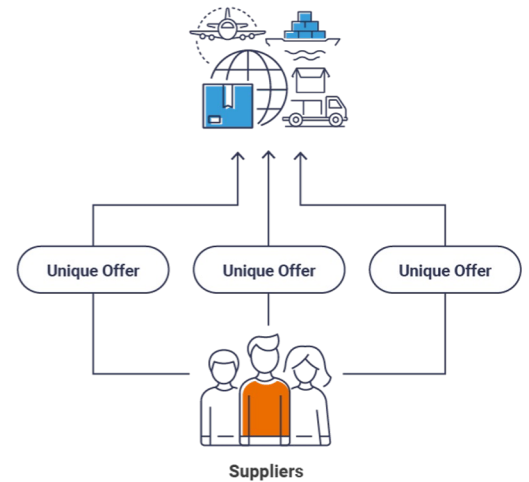

Unlike static discounting, where terms are fixed to two payment options, C2FO Dynamic Supplier Finance allows buyers to set up an early payment program that discovers the value of early payment to each of their suppliers as needs change over time.

Dynamic Supplier Finance is flexible enough to support suppliers of all sizes, so enterprises can expand the reach of their C2FO early payment benefits throughout the supplier ecosystem, enabling higher rates of participation.

How C2FO Dynamic Supplier Finance Works

C2FO Dynamic Supplier Finance allows you to fund early payments with your own balance sheet, your bank or our network of lenders at competitive rates, or a combination of three options as your working capital needs change. This flexible approach ensures that funding is always available, boosting supplier participation.

"C2FO has generated one of the highest and fastest ROIs ever for Albertsons. We paid for our upfront fees within 10 weeks of our C2FO market launch, and the program continues to grow."
