Our DNA

Our mission is to put people back in the center of digital learning. Since our first virtual training in 2005, we have encountered difficulties and failures. We have overcome them and developed a unique expertise to help you avoid the errors of these methods and save precious time.

Without interactions and exchanges, the new technologies have only a limited impact on training. Knowledge is no longer enough and counts less and less compared to know-how and interpersonal skills. MY VIRTUAL CLASSROOM brings you all three: knowledge, know-how, and interpersonal skills.

Our expertise: online and live events

- Professionalize virtual events in your company
- Support and train your human resources in the uses and tools related to online modalities
- Adapt your training programs and activities of your online events alongside your staff
- Outsource all or part of your virtual training and webinars: equipment, preparation of participants before an event, content creation, storyboard design, and live production of your events
- Carry out the customized projects you entrust to us

Emotional digital learning

The digital revolution has reached every position in all sectors of each industry. Constant reinvention, adaptability, and learning is at the heart of this revolution. The challenge is to smoothly accomplish this transition in an ever-changing environment. The virtual classroom addresses this new situation without forfeiting the human factor -- the strongest part of every one of our organizations. We provide tailored, end-to-end L&D responses to the challenges of our time: cost-effective, Eco-friendly, enduring, collaborative, scalable, personalized, quickly operational and most of all, a people-centric digital learning solution.

...and our recipe

100%
Satisfy the attendees

There are a thousand reasons why a virtual event may not work. We are THE reason yours will!

Our recipe is based on the people at the center of your company. We involve them and give meaning to each step of the project. Our 15 years of experience allow us to link the 4 roles revolving around any virtual event: administrator, designer, producer, and of course, facilitator.

OUT SOURCE

If you need to start quickly or if there is no value for your organization to hire and train a virtual event team, hire us. We can take expert charge of one or more roles for you. For instance, we can be your facilitator's producers, or design your virtual training content and activities.

IN SOURCE

If you wish to integrate the method, let us bring our expertise to guarantee the assimilation of the virtual events in your organization. We train and guide your team to the uses of this new means, in order to bring it to life daily.
