Tired of playing catch-up with attackers?

PERFORMANCE THROUGH INTELLIGENCE

Anyone can detect a problem when damage has already occured. Contrary to other detection & response tools, we detect and identify threats in real time, before they do harm. To achieve this, we use threat intelligence to steer detection and deploy cutting-edge techniques to automate whatever can and must be without any loss of control nor protection.
Do your various security solutions still work in silos?
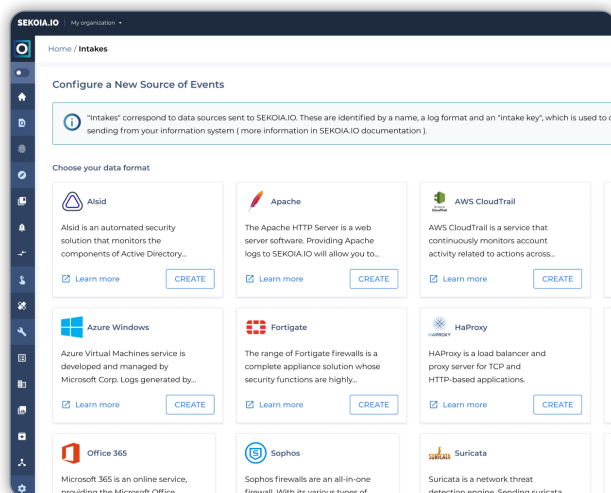

INDUSTRIAL AGILITY

SEKOIA. IO interfaces natively with the most common data sources and can put a complex IS under supervision in under a month from a standing start. With a state-of-the-art SaaS architecture, the platform has virtually no limits of growth in width as well as in depth. A change of scope occurs in minutes, a functional evolution in hours, to support and secure your information system along every further evolution.

Your operators can't take it anymore chasing false or useless alerts?

OPERATOR EXPERIENCE

Cybersecurity tools have for too long remained the ugly ducklings of user experience. Unlike those who do not even consider the question of ergonomics, we place analysts and operators at the heart of all our developments, to offer a clear, precise and attractive platform, both efficient and pleasant to use every day, to make their trade thrilling again and help them focus on high-added-value activities (hunting, investigation).
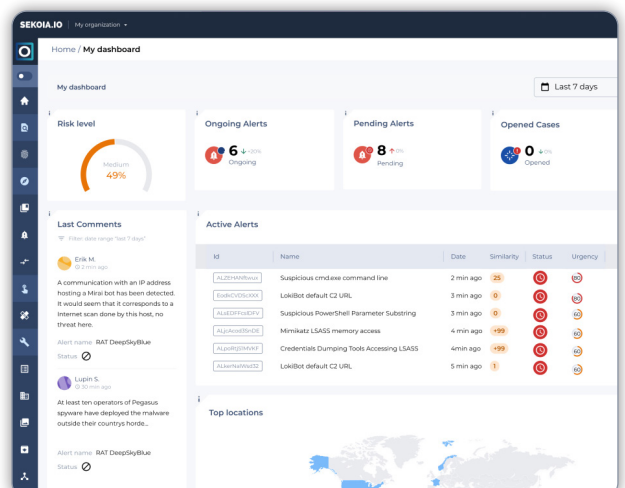

Integrated Threat Intelligence (CTI)

Intelligence is a trade of experts, especially in cybersecurity. To drive detection and response as close as possible to the threats that really weigh on you, our team of 25+ analysts and experts aggregate and contextualise one of the best-renowned private CTI feeds on the market.
