Pinomatic is a family owned company, which aims to deliver high level of automation for customers in the woodworking industry.

Customer satisfaction is integrated into our workforce and managing projects for the customer is one of our strengths. High quality is achieved by having matters in our own hands. Sales, project management, designing, metalworks and automation is all done in house.

Pinomatic delivers both production lines and single devices for its customers in the wood industry. The implementation process uses reliable Pinomatic standard products combined into individual client solutions. The areas of expertise include further processing at sawmills, non-settling log production, glulam and CLT production, plywood and LVL production, edge-glued panels, panel, and moulding production, as well as the production of the pallet industry. Pinomatic products include stacking equipment, automatic mechanization solutions, edge-gluing presses, shrink packaging machines and scanners for the automatic grading of wood and also the most recently the optimizing crosscut saws.
