

FILING CLAMP

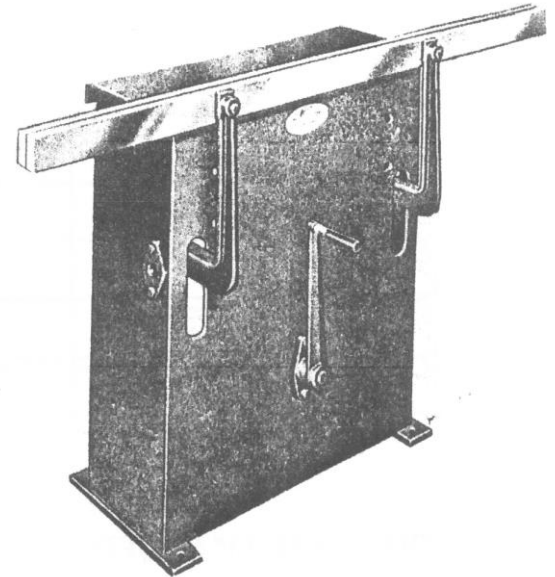

For bandsaw blades and chassis blades

Armstrong offers filing clamp to fit a complete range of band-saw blades and chassis blades. Model 58-B-60 is a single height filing clamp, designed specifically for handling band saws over 254 mm wide and/or over 10.37 m long. Armstrong's 58-B-32 Filing clamp provides adjustable height control for smaller blades. For chassis blades, the 58-G is quickly adjustable to fit the width of the blade and hold it in position.

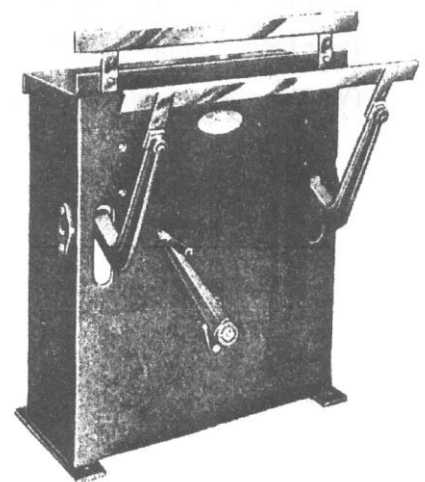

Armstrong filers have a strong and rigid steel structure to ensure durability and longevity in the grinding room. The latest model includes a shelf to store the tools you use most often. The smooth and straight jaws give:

1. blade guidance during crushing and rectification,
2. a well maintained area to control the track on either side of the blade,
3. Allows blade alignment at the inlet of a grinding machine, grinding machine or crushing machine.

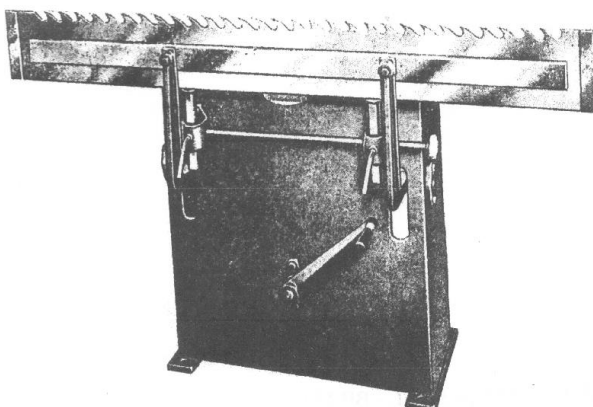

The clamping lever allows a large opening of the jaws for easy blade handling. The mobile mâchoire is counterbalanced by a spring for gentle handling. The clamping pressure is controlled by the user. The tightening process is carried out to ensure that the jaws close correctly.

58-B-60 Filing clamp for 1.524 mm jaw band blades.

58-B-32 Filing clamp for 800 mm jaw band blades.

58-G Filing clamp for chassis blades.
