Cookies with a cause - Cookies never tasted so good!

Our freshly baked cookies are delivered directly to your office and make a real difference to the young people who make them. Every cookie that you buy pays for the training of students with special educational needs. The Cookie Bar provides them with valuable business and life skills so that they can gain the confidence to overcome challenges, integrate into society and fulfil their potential.

The Cookie Bar is a Social Enterprise with 100% of profits donated to Stepping Stones, a school for young people with a wide range of disabilities.

I'd like some cookies!

Student Stories

I am 13 years old and school before Stepping Stones was very hard for me. My disability is complex and layered but when you meet me you would say, "I don't see anything wrong." I find it hard to understand people - the grown-ups call this inference, I just call it confusing. Over the last year I have spent one morning a week at Equine Empowerment working with horses through touch and using my voice to help the horse feel safe and me feel good inside.

I have also spent another morning a week at the Cookie Bar testing my new confidence taking orders and listening to customers, then solving problems. All tricky business, but I feel so confident when I go to lessons such as Maths and when I don't understand, I am so much better at stopping and working out the answers! No problem is too big anymore.
